

PROGRAM: Master of International Economics (MIE)

SLOGAN: Essential for the credential to success

INTRODUCTION:

The Master of International Economics (MIE) program taught in English provides knowledge to help students study the interdependence of economies and find optimal options with scarce resources in the international integration time. The program also equips students with analytical skills, research abilities, and critical thinking in order to apply professional knowledge in research and problem solving in economics and other fields, such as finance, business, international relations.... In addition, the program also provides students with a solid foreign language foundation so that graduates can work professionally in an international environment

TRAINING ORGANIZATIONS:

1. Training period: 18 months (evening and/or weekend classes)
2. Language of instruction: English
3. Tuition: 58 million/course (adjusted annually according to the regulations of Foreign Trade University)

FORMAT - ADMISSION SUBJECT

- Format: Entrance Exam

- Exam subjects:

1. International Economy
2. Assess candidate's ability
3. English

(Candidates are exempted from the English test if they meet the conditions specified in the school's admission notice)

ENTRANCE CONDITIONS

- Graduated from university in the right, suitable major for International economics, including the following majors: Economics, Political Economics, Investment

Economics, Development Economics, International Economics, Statistics Economics, Econometrics; State Management, International Relations; Science Management, Public Management; Industrial Economics, Construction Economics, Agricultural Economics, Household Economics, transportation economics; Natural Resource Economics.

- Graduated from a university with a major related to International Economics and took 4 (four) additional courses in International Economics from Foreign Trade University
- Having 2 (two) years of working experience in the field of registration valued to the date of the test.

* BSKT courses:

1. Microeconomics.
2. Macroeconomics
3. Econometrics
4. International economy.

LIST OF SUBJECTS IN TRAINING PROGRAMS

- Philosophy (4 credits)
- Academic English (4 credits)
- Guide to Master Thesis Writing (1 credit)
- Intermediate Microeconomics (3 credits)
- Intermediate Macroeconomics (3 credits)
- Intermediate Econometrics (3 credits)
- Research Methodology (3 credits)
- International Economics (3 credits)
- Research Seminar (3 credits)
- Master Thesis (16 credits)
- Policy Analysis(3 credits)
- Cost-Benefit Analysis (3 credits)
- Managerial Economics (3 credits)
- Financial Economics (3 credits)
- Project Economics (3 credits)

- International Economic Negotiation (3 credits)
- Development Economics and Policy (3 credits)
- Environmental Economics and Management (3 credits)
- Public Economics and Policy (3 credits)
- International Political Economy (3 credits)
- Innovation Economics (3 credits)
- Data Analytics (3 credits)
- Intermediate International Business (3 credits)
- Trade Remedies (3 credits)
- World Trade Law (3 credits)
- Competition Policy and Law (3 credits)
- Investment Policy and Law (3 credits)
- International Finance (3 credits)
- Regional Integration of Asia (3 credits)

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Students after graduation can take up the following job positions:

- + Research organization, policy consultancy, at universities or research institutes, ministries, departments, branches, independent research agencies...
- + Consulting, analyzing, evaluating, researching at financial institutions, banks, businesses, international organizations;working for economic, social development projects, investment projects, environmental projects...
- + Lecturers at Vietnamese/ international universities or organizations and research units.

(Excellent graduates have the opportunity to be recruited as lecturers and researchers of Foreign Trade University.)